Poetry.

My Temple.

A heavenly workman fashioned in my heart
A church of God,
Upon a shining eminence apart
From the earth road

Oh! what a wonderous architect he is,
Whose touch divine
Reared high these sun-girt walls, my destiny's
Immortal shrine.

He carved so noiselessly, I never knew
The work begun
Nor what it was God sent him here to do,
Until 'twas done.

O shrine of God! what human soul would dare
Stretch out a hand
Defiled to touch thee, or seek without prayer
To understand.

Deep as the sea thy shining altars are.
Yet are they high
Enough for God to know their light afar
In the soul's sky.

Here silences, uplifting to the sun
Their foreheads broad,
With mysteries move grandly one by one,
Prophets of God.

And here and there upon thy sun-stained floor
A white thought kneels,
With hopes grouped round it beautiful, whose power
That great God feels.

And here and there dreams gorgeous to the sight
Shine to and fro
With burning eyes, whose meaning of delight
The angels know.

This heavenly workman once for every soul
Builds church and shrine—
Ah! when he builds for thee, pray God they be Godlike as mine.

Selected Story.

Little Ruth.

I know I was a selfish old idiot, now, when I look around me and see the mercies given me in my helpless old age, feel the warm love aronnd me on all sides, and realize the desolation my own hand reached forth to grasp, but I was blind to the future in those days when I so nearly wrecked all its happiness.

This was how it happened! After Martha died—my wife, I mean, with whom forty happy years of my life were spent—and all my children were dead or married, excepting Ruth, there fell upon me the heavy misfortune that chained me to this chair, or my bed, for fifteen years.

I had been a hard-working man all my life—a wheelwright by trade—with a large family to rear, to clothe, to feed, to educate, and, ah, me! one by one to bury in the old churchyard, till only Mary, James, and Ruth, our baby, were left to me. Mary married, and went with her husband to the far West, James took his small fortune of a few hard-earned dollars and left us for the golden land of promise, California. Then the angle of death came for Martha, and only six months later, I was stricken helpless with paralysis. I am reconciled now to my hard fate and can sit here happily, glad that my eyesight is still good, my right hand free, and that I have learned in my old age to love books, to enjoy reading and even writing, as I never did in the hard-working days of my youth. But in those first months of helplessness, when even to toss and turn in my nervous torture was denied me, my sufferings were simply horrible. No agony of pain, no torture of flesh or bone, could equal the dreadful pressure upon my strong limbs, that held me motionless, dead, in spite of my efforts to move them one little inch. I have fainted with the frightful efforts I have made just to lift once the feet that had carried me miles in a day with unwearied ease.

But in that time of rebellious murmuring, of bitterest repining, there was some consolation. First, there was the house and five acres of land, my very own, free from debt or mortgage, and a small sum in the bank, the interest of which lifted us above actual want. Then I had Ruth.

She was just twenty when her mother died, and others beside her father thought her face the fairest one for miles around. She had the bluest eyes, like little patches of summer sky, and hair that was the color of corn-silk, and nestled in little baby curls all over her head—rebellious hair, that would never lie straight under any coaxing, but kinked up in tangles that were full of sunlight. Her skin was white as milk, with cheeks like the heart of a blush rose, and her smile showed the prettiest rows of pearly teeth I ever saw. She coaxed me from my wicked repinings by coming to me for directions, making me feel that my head was still needed to direct the work, though my feet would never more carry me over the door-sill. Then she fitted up for me a large back room that overlooked most of the farm, and had Silas, our head man, lift me up every morning and put me in a deep cushioned chair by the window, where I could see the barn, the poultryyard, the well and the fields of waving corn and wheat. She made me feel myself of importance by giving me thus the master-eye over my own little domain, and she brought up her own meals to eat with me in the room where my infirmity held me a prisoner.

You must understand what Ruth was to me, or you will never understand the simple story I have set myself to telling you. She tanght me to use my right hand without my left, and if you want to appreciate the difficulty tie your left arm down for one single hour, and try how often it will unconsciously strain at the cords. She brought me books from the village library, and opened to my old eyes and brain a field of pleasure never before exploded. I had read my Bible and the newspaper all my life; but I never knew even the name of books, now my greatest treasures, till Ruth thought "reading would be company" for me. Little Ruth, even she does not know the world she peopled for me in her loving care for my loneliness.

When she was busy at her housework, her baking, her washing and her ironing, she left all the doors standing open, that I might still hear her cheery voice as she sang or talked to me. Then, when all her work was done, she would put a clean white apron over her black dress, and sit close behind me, stiching busily on the household linen, while I read aloud whatever had most pleased my morning studies.

She devised little dainty dishes to tempt me to eat; she put saucers of flowers on the table that I might cheat myself into fancying I was outdoors, as their perfume crept out on the air; she nursed me, petted me, loved me, till even my misfortunes seemed blessings drawing us so near together.

And when she was all the world to me, all that saved me from misery, John Hays asked me to give him my Ruth for his wife. I could have struck him dead when he stood before me, a young giant in strength, with his handsome, sunburnt face glowing with health, and wanted to take away my one blessing, my only home-child.

"I will be a true son to you, Mr. Martin," he said earnestly, "I will never take Ruth from here; but let me come and share her life, and lift some of the burdens from her shoulders."

I laughed bitterly; I knew well what such sharings would be when Ruth had a husband, and perhaps children, to take her time and love from me. But I was not harsh. I did not turn this suitor from my house and bid him never speak to Ruth again, much as I longed to do it. I worked more cautiously. I let him go from me to Ruth; and when he left her, and she came to me, all rosy, blushes, to tell me, with drooping lids and moist eyes, of her new happiness, I worked upon her love and her sense of duty till she believed herself a monster of ungrateful wickedness to think of leaving me or taking any divided duty upon her hands.

I wept, asking her if she could face her dead mother after deserting her helpless father. I pointed out to her the unceasing round of wifely duty that would keep her from my side, and prove to her that the duties of child and wife must clash, if undertaken under such circumstances as were proposed.

The tender-hearted girl yielded to me, and John was tearfully dismissed. Through the warm autumn months, when the corn ripened and was garnered—when our crops were blessed, and the little bank fund was increased by the price of the farm produce—Ruth grew very quiet and subdued. She was not sad, having always a cheerful word and pleasant smiles for me; but the pretty rosytint left her face and her round cheeks, and I no longer heard her singing at her work. When I read the best passages in the book to her, I would see her eyes fixed dreamily on some far-away thought, her work lying idle, till she woke with a start at my fretful questions.

For I grew fretful and trying in those days. I wanted her to give up woman's dearest hopes and sweetest affections, and be the same sunshiny Ruth she was before my hand tore away her love-dreams. I wanted her to put away all the loving, tender ties of wifehood and motherhood, and pass her life in devotion at the arm-chair of a paralyzed old man. And when she complied, with gentle, touching submission, then I wanted her to be the bright, happy girl who had resigned nothing, and who could nurse sweet, girlish fancies, with John for a hero. An unreasonable old tyrant, was n't I?

The winter came in early that year and before Christmas everything was frozen up tight, and the cold was intense. We piled up coal in the stoves, lised doors and windows—that is, Ruth did the work and I enjoyed the results; but there came one cold day—one Friday—when it seemed no coals, nor listing could conquer the cold. Children froze on their way to school that day, and were found stiff and stark, leaning against the fence. Food froze on the tables. Ask anybody in Maine if they remember that black Friday, and see if some mother's eyes will not fill with tears as they think of the little scarlet-hooded figures brought to there doors, white and rigid, that had lifted rosy, round cheeks for a kiss only a few short hours before.

On this cold Friday, Ruth hurried through her work in the morning, making my room the warmest place in the house, covering my arm-chair with soft woollens and moving it near the stove. I would have it face the window, for my glimpse of out-door life was too precious to resign; but I was not, as usual, near it for Ruth said there might be a draught When all was done in-doors, I saw from my chair Ruth, with a scarlet cloak and hood thrown over her, going to the well with an empty bucket. She stepped along quickly over the hard frozen ground, and I was admirrng the trim little feet and the dainty little figure, when I saw her slide to the two steps that were above the well walls and fall. She had slipped, and she lay doubled up between the two wooden steps and the rough side of the well, as if she could not rise. Two or three times he hands clutched the lower step, and she raised herself half way up, only to fall back again, as if her limbs would not support her.

And I could only look on, powerless to move to her aid. Oh, the agony of it, To know she was hurt, unable to rise and I helpless as a log. I screamed and called for help, Silas was somewhere, I could not tell where, and I called loudly for him. I could see, after a time, that Ruth, after her frantic struggle, was growing drowsy with the death-sleep of cold. The scarlet hood dropped more and more till it rested against the well and the blue-vained lids closed over her eyes. The sight called from me such a cry of agony as I thaught must be heard for miles.

It was heard. A moment later, John Hays, panting and eager-eyed, burst open my door.

"What is it?" he cried. "I heard you calling on the road"

"Ruth—Ruth!" I screamed. "She is freezing to death by the well!"

He stopped to hear no more. Out upon the hard slippery ground, down the steps with swift, rapid strides, and then I saw him stoop and lift the little scarlet-cloaked figure in his strong arms, and come swiftly back, bending his face down over the senseless one in his arms, while hot tears rained down his brown cheeks. He put her on a lounge near my chair, and then dashed out for snow.

"Rub her—rub her!" he said, "I am going for a doctor and my mother."

Before it seemed possible he could have crossed the lots to his home, his mother was with me, and litted Ruth away from the fire to the bed. The doctor came, and the two worked till my heart sank with utter hopelessness before the blue eyes opened again, or the breath fluttered thro' the pale lips.

But it did at last, and John joined me in a fervent "thank God!"

But Ruth had broken her leg, and we knew she must be helpless for weeks before she could be our active, bright girl again. It was an appalling truth for me to face, but she was not dead, not lying frozen against the rough well-curb, and I could not but feel thankfulness far, far above the pain of knowing her suffering. I was trying to settle it all in my mind; to understand the doctor's words, while Mrs. Hays and the doctor lifted Ruth into her own room that opened into mine. They were away a long time, and John set beside me holding my hand in his and comforting me as if I had not taken the very hope of his life from him.

"Don't grieve so," he said gently. She will live."

"Thanks to you," I said. "Oh, John, if she gets well she is your's. Give her your strong arm for life, John, instead of my helplessness. I see to-day where my selfish love has nearly cost her life!"

"Do you mean that?" John asked with a little trembling in his voice; "do you really mean that?"

"I do, indeed. Let me stay here, John; I will not be a burden on your purse, for the house and farm and all I have saved is Ruth's, but let her give me what time and love she can spare from you?"

"Gladly," he answered; "but we will not wait till she is well, Mr. Martin. Let me have Ruth for my wife now, to-day!"

"With a broken leg, sick, helpless?"

"Does she not need me the more? Give her to me now."

But he had to wait till the banns were called in church three times, though he came to us that day, caring for me with the tenderness of a son, while his mother nursed Ruth. They were alone together as we were, and they had shut up the house and come to live with us, never to leave again. For one morning, propped up with pillow, Ruth was dressed in white by Mrs. Hays, and we had a wedding in the little room. My chair was moved in, and the neighbors came from far and near to hear solemn words that made John and Ruth man and wife.

And happiness has shed its true light upon our home ever since.

Miscellaneous.

A Moral.

A nut dropped by a squirrel fell through the opening in the middle of an old mill-stone which lay upon the ground, and, being thus protected, grew into a thriving sapling that shot up through the opening. In a few years it had increased so that it filled the space and was firmly wedged to the sides of the heavy stone. Still it grew, and in a few years more, little by little, it lifted the entire weight clear from the earth, so that a man could sit beneath it. All was done by atom after atom, borne by the sap to the growing trunk. Think of this, my little man, puzzling over "long division" in arithmetic; little by little of thinking and working will take you through fractions, rule of three, and those terrible problems at the end of the book, by-and-by; but be sure that the little is not neglected. And you, hard working lad on the farm, or in the shop, look at Franklin, Watts, Morse, Field and thousands more who have lifted the weight of circumstances that would hold them down like millstones, and who have by their steady perseverance risen above their fellows, easily bearing their burdens, and "keep pegging away."

The Iceland Millennium.

The Iceland Millennium is to be celebrated next week. We are learning more about Icelanders than we ever knew before. A recent traveller says of the people: "The Icelanders are a race of farmers and fisherman, all their manufactures are domestic. Except in the vicinity of the towns each farmer is his own mason, carpenter, blacksmith, saddler, &c. The average farmer of the country posesses from twelve to sixteen head of cattle, a flock of from 400 to 500 sheep, and from 50 to 60 horses. Some wealthy farmers have as many as 100 head of cattle and 3,000 or 4,000 sheep. Of the latter there are 1,605,000 head in the country. About 200,000 pairs of woollen stockings and 80,000 pairs of gloves, knitted during the long winter evenings, are annually exported. The quanity of butter consumed by the Icelanders is enormous; during tha hay making tim, each man receives 2½lb; of butter daily, and each woman 2lb. The Icelanders live, well: meat (fresh and salted), butter milk, oaten bread, fish, potatoes, cabbages, soups, coffee, and dried fruits, form the principal articles of diet, and may be met with almost in every peasant's house. There are no hotels or inns in the island, but for the benefit of intending tourists and spotsmen, I may say that they will be hospitably received in the houses of all classes of people, few of whom will accept any remuneration for their services. Indeed the arrival of a stranger is always a festive event in the isolated households of Iceland. It is a remarkable fact that, whilst the sheep of the country are provided with three or four horns, the cattle are wholly without them."

A State Ruled by Women.

Among the Holland possesions there is a remarkable little State which, in its constitution and the original customs of its inhabitants, surpasses the boldest dreams of American emancipation ladies. Upon the island of Java, between the cities of Batavia and Samarang, lies the the kingdom of Bantam. Although tributary to Holland, it is an independent State, politically without importance, yet happy, rich and since time immemorial governed and defended by women. The sovereign is indeed a man but all the rest of the government belongs to the fair sex. The King is entirely dependent upon his state council, composed of three women. The highest authorities, all state officers, court functionaries, military commanders, and soldiers are, without exception, of the female sex. The men are agriculturists and merchants. The body-guard of the King is formed of the female elite. These amazons ride in the masculine style, wearing sharp steel points instead af spurs They carry a pointed lance, which they swing very gracefully, and also a musket, which is discharged at full gallope. The throne is inheritable by the eldest son, and in case the King dies without issue a hundred elected amazons assemble, in order to choose a successor from among their own sons. The chosen one is then proclaimed lawful King. The capital city of this little State lies in one of the most pictures

OUR NEW CAMPAIGN.

The canvass is now closed. Thursday is the election and before another issue of the NORTH CAROLINIAN the verdict of the people will have been rendered and all good citizens will submissively accept the situation." We have tried to do our duty—fearlessly and honestly. We have assailed no man personally

"—have naught extenuated
Nor aught in malice writ,"

but we have earnestly supported and advocated those men and measures we conscientiously believed would best and most certainly promote the interests and prosperity of the country. With honest men we have differed. So long as we are concerned it has been an honest difference. They have a right to their opinion; so have we. They exercised that right; so did we. It ought to end with us is will not change our personal relations. We all exercised a citizen's right and performed a freeman's duty. And so long as any citizen honestly does this the Republic is safe.

Now the NORTH CAROLINIAN proposes to devote its attention more especially to the great material interests of our section. These subjects are more essential to us than politics. There is much to be said—much more to be done. Nature has been bountiful to us in rich resources—in boundless possibilities for prosperity, wealth and power! They are here, all around us, within our reach. But of what use are they, what benefit so long as they are suffered to remain latent and dormant—so long as they are allowed to lie buried, undeveloped and unused? Man must cooperate with nature, He must arouse himself; he must work; he must bring to bear the appliances of science and the agencies the advanced civilization of the times has prepared for him, and then this country can be made as prosperous and wealthy as its soil is naturally fertile and its climate genial.

This is now the campaign upon which the NORTH CAROLINIAN enters. It asks the cooperation of every well wisher of this Albemarle country—nay of every public spirited citizen of the State. It is a campaign in which all are vitally interested and its successful issue depends upon earnest agitation, persevering effort and faithful work. The NORTH CAROLINIAN will perform its part; let it be sustained and a victory all parties can rejoice in will surely be achieved.

On the 26th of July, Pittsburg, Pa., was visited by a terrible calamity in the shape of a flood. The water descended in torrents and in a few moments the streets were flooded. Hundreds of houses were swept away and the loss of life reaches near 200. Loss $3,000,00. It is supposed that the disaster was caused by the bursting of a water spout.

THE GREAT BROOKLYN SCANDAL.

For the past three weeks the New York daily papers have been full of accounts reports and examinations of what is known as the "TILTON—BEECHER Scandal." It is a terrible story, and as it stands it is impossible to decide whether Tilton is a slanderer and perjurer or BEECHER an adulturer. We see that the general opinion is against the former. Below we give a synopsis of the case and a few extracts from the press reflecting what appears to be the general public sentiment:

Mr. Theodore Tilton's statement of charge and proof against Mr. Beecher, as read to the committee on Monday night, is published. It is; in terms, a specific allegation of adultery, committed by Mr. Beecher with Mrs. Tilton, first at Mr. Beecher's own house on the evening of Oct. 10, 1868, and frequently thereafter at the residences of both, and elsewhere, until the Spring of 1870. It alleges Mr. Tilton's discovery of Mr. Beecher locked up with Mrs. Tilton in her bedroom; his seeing improper liberties taken with her by Mr. Beecher in his library; Mrs. Tilton own confession to him of her guilt, and her explanations of it, July 3, 1870; that this confession was subsequently put in writing by her, and was shown by Mr. E. D. Moulton to Mr. Beecher; that Mr. Beecher first procured from Mrs. Tilton a written retraction of the whole story, and then confessed to Mr. Moulton his own guilt, returned to the latter Mrs. Tilton's retraction and threatened suicide in case of exposure. The full text of Mr. Beecher's apology is given with parts of several other letters by him, addressed, like it, to Mr. Moulton, all expressing remorse and contrition for some great but unknown wrong done Mr. and Mrs. Tilton. A letter from Mr. Beecher to Mrs. Tilton eulogizes Moulton as the friend who had tied up the storm ready to burst on their heads. A letter from Mrs. Tilton to her husband, naming no one, says she, first saw that the love she felt and received was sinful on reading Griffith Gaunt, and assures her husband now of a purified and restored love whenever he yarns towards her with true feeling. The rest of the statement deals with the provocation given for this exposure by both Mr. Beecher and Mrs. Tilton; and with the happy character of the family life thus destroyed.

Henry Ward Beecher in response to Mr. Tilton's statement has publised a card explicitly denying every allegation of Mr. Tilton's connecting his name dishonorably with that of Mrs. Tilton, and defending that lady's character. He denounces Mr. Tilton's statement concerning the two improprieties of which he declared himself an eye-witness, as utter and absolute falsehoods. He explains the contrition and remorse expressed in his letters as arising from the discovery that both he and Mrs. Beecher, in endeavoring to prevent scandal in Mr. Tilton's family, growing out of Mr. Tilton's own conduct, had unwittingly increased instead of allaying the unhappiness. All the circumstances connected with it he purpose to detail in full in a statement to be forthwith furnished the Committee and to be by them disposed of as they may judge proper. The closing paragraph of this card is in the following words:—"To every statement which connects me dishonorably with Mrs. Elizabeth R. Tilton, or which in anywise would impugn the honor and purity of this beloved Christian woman, I give the most explicit, comprehensive, and solemn denial."

LIES OR HALLUCINATIONS OF THE FIRST CLASS.

A word only is needed upon the "library scene" and the "bedroom scene." Mr. Tilton virtually abandons them. He can fix no dates for them, not even so large a date as a decade. Mr. Winslow had to fix the date of Tilton's former admissions, and then Tilton said the "library scene" was in 1862! fourteen years ago, and that "the bedroom scene occurred before that," say sixteen years ago. Mrs. Tilton and Mr. Beecher indignantly deny any such scene. Theodore Tilton is certain of it, and equally certain that it was in his presence, fourteen years ago; that he has lived with the lady ever since, till a fortnight ago, and that now he believes it. We believe that Theodore Tilton believes that Theodore Tilton lies, because it is imposible for even him to have so little manhood as he swears to. He dates the bedroom scene even earlier—and it is explained even on his own testimony that his bedroom and sittingroom were in common, and that thither Mrs. Tilton had taken Mr. Beecher for quiet, the house being full of children, who were racing and romping and making a great noise. At the time, and to this day, Mr. Tilton attaches no importance to the "scenes," and he so tells the Committee. His cross-examination also shows that his home was broken up by himself—by his change of views so virtal to his wife, by the singular importation of women whom she agrees with all mankind, very nearly, in detesting, to his table, to her presence, and into the confidence of their family secrets. And he testifies that after the "scenes" he tried to make so much of a day or two ago, and makes so little of now, he chided and was displeased at Mr. Beecher for not coming oftener to his house—when he, would have us believe that he saw Mr. Beecher taking liberties with his wife's person in her husband's approving presence. This is the whole story: The "confession" is shown to be a fraud; Mr. Tilton's assault on Mr. Beecher is shown to have been perverted into unsuccessful blood-mail, though the proposition for the interview was an honorable one proceeding from his wife; Mr. Tilton,s campaign on Bowen was a successful black-mail, and the "scenes" are lies or hallucinations of the first and worst class. The rest of the testimony is "trimmings." The trimmings, however, befit the garments which we have exhibited.—From the Brooklyn Eagle.

PECULIAR IDEAS ON SOCIAL QUESTIONS.

Theodore Tilton evidently has very peculiar ideas on social questions. In his sworn statement he explicitly charged his wife with having had improper relations toward Mr. Beecher. When cross-examined by the Committee of Investigation he says that his wife deserves a good character; that her soul is white, and that she is better than her husband. Believing that, how can he have the impudence to voluntarily charge her with immorality, and with an attempt to ruin him. When asked for documentary proofs of his wife's infidelity he refused to present them, saying that he would let any unprejudiced parties see them, but he could not trust them in the hands of this Committee, because it is composed of Mr. Beecher's friends and is not an impartial body. The alleged improper embrace and the bedroom scene, on which Mr. Tilton laid so much stress, at least by imputation, in his previous statement, dwindles into comparitive Insignificance when exposed to the test of cross-examination. Nothing is shown necessarily incompatible with the virtue and integrity of either of the accused, and, in fact, Mr. Tilton acknowledges that they are entitled to the benefit of the doubt.—Boston Journal.

OPINION OF ONE WHO KNOWS ALL PARTIES.

During the past three years a wicked attempt has been persistently made by the advocate of free love to destroy the reputation of an estimable lady and an eminent Christian minister. Detraction, like death, loves a shining mark, and those who advocate license seek to prove that all men and women are licentious. Meanwhile The Woman's Journal has remained silent not because we have feared to speak, but because we did not choose to increase the circulation of a scandal, promulgated by women of infamous character in the interest of immorality. Only twice have we made an exception to this rule of silence; once to express our disgust at the unmanly conduct of Mr. Tilton,s silently permitting his wife to be thus slandered, when it was in his own power to have vindicated her good name; again to publish Mr. Beecher's letter to The Brooklyn Eagle, which explicitly contradicted the enarges made against him. The gross and indecent arraignment now publicly made by Mr. Tilton. changes the situation and makes it proper for us to speak. We do so, without waiting for the replies of Mrs Tilton and Mr. Beecher. Having known them both personally for many years, we will frankly say that if they should admit the truth of Mr. Tilton's statement, we should find it difficult to believe, but that until they do so we find it impossible. Knowing Mr. Tilton, also, we should require collateral evidence at every step before accepting of his statements. The man and woman who are accused have behind them the consistent record of private and public worth; the man who accused them has no such record. What have these three people been doing during the past seven years? Mrs. Tilton has been a patient, loving, devoted wife and mother, enduring nameless wrongs in silence. Mr Beecher has been actitive in good work, devoting his leisure honrs to writing a life of Christ. Mr. Tilton has been advocating "free devorce," and writing the biography of Victoria Woodhull. The contrast is a sharp one, but it tells the whole story.—Woman's Journal.

THE AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS.

Twenty years ago, says a cotemporarry, when Cotton was king, quite a rustle was produced by the announcement that the hay crop of the country was worth several millions more than the cotton crop. Statistics bear out the assertion, and every year the value of agricultural products increase. In studying a carefully arranged table of statistics like that prepared by Mr. SAMUEL B. RUGGLES, of the New York Chamber of Commerce, for instance, one gets a new idea of the magnitude of the farming intrests of the country, and how much of our property is invested in the soil and apparatus for its cultivation. The Agricultural wealth of the country in 1870 amounted to $11,124,958,747, and was represented by an agricultural population of 5,822,471, This would give $1,878 to each individual connected with agricultural pursuits. And the annual income to each person connected with this great industry amounts to $360. The ratio of increase of agricultural population, taking thirty years for the basis of calculation, would add another million in thirteen years; and this would increase the wealth of the nation $1,878,000,000.

Figures like these tell their own story. They show plainly enough that the American farmer is not a mere appendage to and purveyor for the merchant and manufacturer. He is master of the situation. Estimated in solid dollars the farming interests is the most important in the nation. The individual farmer may not be of much personal account. But men get dignity and importance from the class to which they belong and of which they are representatives. And every American farmer ought to feel that he has additional value and influence from the fact that he is connected with the controlling interest of the country. And he is getting far more attention now than formerly. His voice is heard and his wishes are heeded as never before. Politicians have found that it is for their interest to conciliate him, and even Congress has discovered that he exists and has a vote that it will not do to lose. And the result will be beneficial to the country.

Kidnapping children and restoring them to their distracted parents on the payment of a ransom in money is being practiced in the large cities. A few weeks ago a child was kidnapped in New York and it was given up on the payment of $500. Next comes a case from Philadelphia. A little child named Ross, aged 4 years, was abducted. The kidnappers at once communicated through the personal column of the Ledger with the parents offering to restore him on payment of $20,000. The captors thus far have eluded the vigilance of the authorities, the police and the detectives. The plan for receiving the ransom and delivering the child is so carefully and cunningly arranged as to make it impossible to capture the kidnappers.

When the Democratic party, at its last National Convention, endorsed the Fourteenth Amendment they acknowledged and justified the right of Congress to enforce it by necessary legislation. The 5th section of the Amendment is in these words: "Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article." Hence in those sections of the Union where any class of citizens, white or colored, do not enjoy all the rights guaranteed by the Federal Constitution it becomes the duty of Congress to provide the necessary means to secure them and the Democracy has publicly declared that this should be done!

There has never a political party existed that has been so thoroughly animated by the spirit of progress as the Republican party. Ever since it came into power and assumed the control of the national government it has manifested a disposition to open up new channels of commerce and to increase the production of the country. It has always shown a disposition to aid all genuine projects calculated to benefit the country at large and to aid the Government in its upward course. Because of these things it inspires continued confidence and secures the continued support of the people.

THE TRUTH.

What are the principles of the Democratic party of to-day? Has it any? The New York Tribune says:

"Call a man a "Democrat," what does it mean? It does not define his relation to any question of finance or political economy, currency or tariff; to any policy of administration or system of reform; to anything indeed under the whole heaven except the other side, which he consistently votes against, and the offices, in which he constantly calls for a new deal."

That is it exactly. The offices. No policy, no principle, only "give us the offices."

The leaders of the Democracy, since their support of GREELEY for President and SUMNER for Governor, have lost their talismanic influence. Their prating now about Civil Rights is laughed at when it is remembered that two years ago they called upon their country and their party to support the authors of the Civil Rights bill!

The Democratic editors and speakers, in their denunciations of the Credit Mobilier and the Salary Grab, conveniently neglect to state that the testimony and the votes reveal the fact that proportionately the larger number involved and guilty were Democrats—members of their own party.

The class of men who assert that the Republican party advocates the unification of the races know that they misrepresent. Civil Rights is one thing while Social Priveleges is another. No man's social relations can be regulated by legislative enactments. The Republican party has never attempted it. It never will.

Remember that the cry of "White mans party" is started for the purpose of arousing the prejudices of the white men against the colored men, in order that a few old political hacks may ride into power and office. Let it succeed and it will soon change its name to the "Aristocratic Party" and the poor man will be snubbed.

There was a meeting of the Lumbermen of North Carolina and Virginia held at Norfolk on the 30th ult. They organized an Association the object being to protect the lumbering intereets. They adjourned to meet on the 3d of September.

They have all spoken in Brooklyn. "You did." "I didn't." He didn't either."

CORRESPONDENCE.

Letter from Boston.

BOSTON, MASS.,
July 30th, 1874.

The manufacturers of Fertilizers are not buying their usual quantity of raw fish scrap, the present time. It sold a year ago for $15 per ton 2000 lbs, at the works of the fishermen. The price to-day is but $12 per ton. It occurs to the writer, that the planters on the Sound, can afford to buy it at that rate, and mix in with muck or marle—we should say six parts of muck to one part of scrap. Mix it in December, and it will foment and pulverize, and be ready to use in February. The proper proportion of mixture should be determined however by chemical experiment or actual use.

Vessels can take it at the wharves in Maine where it can be placed on board in bulk, and land it on the Sound, on wharves, or into scows, and planted to the proper place of composting. It is worth trying. No 3 mackerel very abundant, and low—cost $5.50 per bbl. The catch is represented double to that of last year.

We look for a good cotton crop. In New England all our crops are large—indeed it is so all over the country. It bids fair to be a year of perfect plenty. Bins and barns full, are good backlogs for a twelve months. A year of plenty strengthens the hand and heart of the prudent, and adds gain to gains, thrift to enterprize, with intelligence, not only creates kingdoms, but are its supports and protectors too.

TRUTH.

What Democracy has Cost the South.

The Press says:—First we call the attention of our readers to the pecuniary loss, exclusive of slaves, inflicted upon the South by the Democratic civil war. In 1860, exclusive of slave the wealth of the South was rated as two thousand, seven hundred and twenty eight millions of dollars, of this sum the South lost one thousand two hundred and seventy two millions of dollars—add to this the loss of slaves, nine hundred millions of dollars, and we have a total loss of two thousand one hundred and seventy two millions of dollars. The Democrats, who brought this tremendous and disastrous loss of wealth upon us, are still asking us to put them in power again, that they may rule over us.

When the Devil had beguiled our first parents and brought upon us "sin and death and all our woes," he might as well have asked mankind to worship him, as for the Democrats to ask us as now to let them rule over us again. In this vast pecuniary ruin, not one drop of blood that flowed like rivers from Southern hearts is extenuated. In this mighty ruin not one scalding tear of bereaved parents, widowed wives, and orphan children is taken into account.

It is shocking to hear these profane babblers belch forth their demoniac howls over the desolate homes of our slaughtered countrymen, and call down upon our sorrowing land fresh indignation from heaven, by their satanic hatred and unrepentant maledictions.

At a late hour one night last week, by the soft glimmer of the moon, the breathing of Cupid were heard thusly:—"How old are you?" Miss H.—"I am sixteen."

"Do you ever think of marrying?"

"O, I'd have to talk to the old folks about that." "Well, just one year from to-night I want to be married. What do you say?" "Ha, ha, well ha, ha! I do not know what the old folks whold say. Hem, I'll just talk to old uncle C.—about that." Thus they went on, and the moon never blushed or showed any signs of coloring its face.

If there is an editor in the country who would deserve no sympathy for being indicted and punished in the District of Columbia, that editor is Dana, of the New York Sun. For years past that sheet has indulged in wholesale slanders upon the public men of the couhtry, and it is not altogether surprising that goaded by such libellers, members of Congress should have been willing to enact a law that upon ordinary principles could not be justified. That a law which places every newspapor publisher in the country at the mercy of the courts of the District of Columbia can stand is not possible, but if before its repeal, a few of the guerrilla sheets like the Sun should be made to bleed for their unwarranted and unjustifiable attacks upon public men, decent men would have few tears to shed out of sympathy for the sufferers.

The Democrats have had charge of the Legislature since 1870. Have they reduced the taxes any? Have they built any railroads? Have they even built a turnpike road? Have they paid any of the State debt? Have they made any arrangement to compromise or settle any of the State debt? These are questions the people are asking, but they receive no satisfactory answer from the Democracy. Era.

Gov. Vance after giving Waddell a lift, proposes to go to Greenville and give a push for Yeates. It looks rather bad for Yeates and Ransom to be sending off for big speakers. It looks very much like Col. Cobb is two much for the Democracy, and the "Ransom sinners" also.—Era.

The Washington Chronicle says that the remains of Mr. Lincoln, at Springfield, were viewed a few days since, the spectators saying that the body is as natural apparently as the day it laid in the State House, with the exception that the upper lip is somewhat swollen.

The Chicago Times speaks of the Democratic State Convention at Indianapolis as, "a crowd of galvanized skeletons." The term "skeletons" is correct, but there is some doubt whether they are even "galvanized."

The wheat harvest, in Iowa, is nearly over, and the reports indicate that the crop will be fully up to the average in quantity, while the grain is sound and bright, and was harvested in the best possible condition,

A Detroit boy propounds the awful query: "Which had you rather do, be eaten up by a tiger or have all the maple sugar you can swaller?"

The excuse of a young lady to her minister, who caught her napping, was, "Don't you think that ladies had better be fast asleep than fast awake?"

Stripped of all verbiage the Democratic platform can be expressed in three words—repudiation, ignorance, and free whisky.—Indianapolis Journal.

The Danbury News man says: "There is nothing that will change a man so much as gre at grief, unless it is shaving off his mustache."

A bootblack painted in rude letters upon his box "Centennial Shine." That boy is both patriotic and shrewd, and he sets an example.

There were 873 deaths, 110 marriages, and 533 births in New York, last week.

TWO AMERICAN MAGAZINES.—

The excellence of AMERICAN MAGAZINES he become so well recognized abroud that one of the leading English Papers, the LONDON WEEKLY REGISTER, in a recent issue, thus speaks of SCRIBNER MONTHLY.

"We are constrained to own that SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY carries off the prize against all shilling monthly serials for brilliancy of illustrations and variety of contents. It is simply a wonderful shillen's worth. Nothing can be more charming than the cuts,—full of force and vigor; the light and shade are managed with a truly artistic power. Out of its one and twenty original articles, we really do not know which to choose as best, for each and all are excellent."

Not only is it true that Scribner's Monthly excels the English Magazines, but it is "The Best of the American Monthlies."

In the extent, variety and artistic excellence of its illustration of American themes, it has never been even approached, much less excelled. It has a large page and gives a greater variety in its contents than any other of the Standard American Monthlies.

In literary character, and in the brilliancy and ability of its Editorial Departments, it enjoys an equal pre-eminence.

Its conductors started with the definite aim of making it the best magazine in the world, of which they have for a moment lost sight. and they point with pride and pleasure to the May and June numbers, recently issued and ask for them a candid examination and a careful comparison of their merits with those of other magazines; and they renew their pledge to the public to strive for still higher excellence in the future.

A considerable demand has recently arisen in England for Sir. Nicholas, Scribner's New magazine for boys and girls, one publsh er desiring to secure an edition of three thousand of first bound volume (when completed)' with his imprint.

The success of St. Nicholas in this country has been even more remarkable than that of Scribner's Monthly. It is pronounced to be "an ideally perfectagazine for children" re and, as is the case with all the best literaturfor children, it has been found to possess sul, passing interest for grown-up readers,as wely

The influence of the periodicals of the da can scarcely be estimated, especially upon the rising generation. Parents and teachers cannot afford to be indifferent to this influence, or careless in relation to the character of the literature furnished to the children outside of their school lessons. In St. Nicholas not only are History, Natural Philosophy, Literature, Fine Arts, and anufactures presentd in an attretrve way to young readers, but the children are stimulated to seek information for themselves,

The Publishers will send t any address a specinen number of St. Nicholas, postage pre -paid, on receipt of ten cents, the bare cost of paper and printing. The magazines are sold by all firstclass Booksellers and Newsdealers, everywhere.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC

The only Illustrated Daily Newspaper in the World.

With its issue for March 4, 1874, THE DAILY GRAPHIC entered upon the second year of a career phenomenal in the history of journalism. Its story of a twelvemonths has been a steady and unquestioned growth in popular acceptance as the most original, artistically luxurious, and wonderfully comprehensive metropolitan journal ever published in the United States.

As a brilliant novelty, the whole country has confessed its unique attraction; as a practical and marvellously complete Newspaper, it has become a daily necessity to the social and mercantile interests of one of the largest permanent constituencies ever attained by a journalistic enterprise in the same period, while its great specialty, beyond all actuality or hope of competition, as has been the wonder, delight, and new education of individuals and homes in every State of the Union. In the very idea of such utilization of the finest pictorial art, for every day's information and reflection, there is all the charm of a romance; and the realization of a to an idea made visible in THE DAILY GRAPHIC, is a practical and ever-varying assimilation of the most fascinating Ornament with the Commonest Use which never palls upon even the most pampered taste. From the first issue the successive multitude of its pictures has been a perfect study of mechanical and journalistic development; the inevitable early imperfections of artists and others, not yet thoroughly trained in the new process, disappearing steadily in an ever solidly increasing accuracy and beauty of artistic effects. Indeed this very illustration, from day to day, of the Time,s spirit of progress in Art, as well as in Events has been an added and piquant interest, which is yet to be maintained for the public by unending future "Graphic" improvements. Scarcely more, however, for its beautiful portraits, trenchant cartoons, vivid news-etching, and unequalled reproductions of the world's choicest works of art, than for its unrivalled attractions as has THE DAILY GRAPHIC been, nationally recognized and popularly welcomed. Its genuine editorial independence, wide sweep of intelligence, ever-varying department of literary and persona interest, sparkling correspondence and pungent criticisms, make it as much a favorite in the sanctum of the great Western or Southern or Northern newspapers as in the counting-room and the family circle.

A SUPERB PICTORIAL MIRROR

DAILY HISTORY,

NEWS, SOCIETY, AND LITERATURE,

THE DAILY GRAPHIC is an Eight-page Paper, published every afternoon (three editions), in time for the errly mails to all parts of the country.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC has a larger average circulation—more copies printed and sold each day—than any other evening paper in New York excipting only the [penny] News.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC is a great newspaper, as well as the only illustrated daily paper. It has special correspondents everywhere, and it has a larger staff of writers and news-gatherers than any other evening paper in New York.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC is preserved for binding by hundreds of its readers in city and county. The annual subscriber gets a Pictorial History of the Year, a volume of twenty-four hundred pages, constituting a valuable record of events and a graphic panorama of our time and If those who have friends in other cities, especially in the East and West, would send them a copy of the NORTH CAROLINIAN large numbers would be induced to visit this country and finally settle here. It would be a good investment.

By a satisfactory arrangement between W. J. MUNDEN and IVEY BAGLEY, the rival Republican candidates for the Legislature in this county, the matter was settled during the Close up

An old fellow residing at the National Capitol writes us saying: "Your Congress, Hon. C. L. COBB, has the regard and respect of both Members and Senators. He has been a doer, rather than a talking member, and no one has more influence among his colleagues." We are glad to hear it.

The letter of "Teacher" is crowded out this week. In teaching, success and advancement depend largely upon love for the work. If you have no pleasure for the work, the sooner you get out of it the better for yourself and probably for the public. This is plain, but it is true.

Remember that every charge made against Hon. C. L. COBB has fallen to the ground. No act of corruption, of non-performance of duty, of treachery to principle or of infidelity as a Representative has been proven, and simply because none could be. His public and political record have been without a stain. The more they have been investigated he more clearly has this been shown.

An exchange thus pitches into our great summer luxury: "Ice water absorbs animal heat, arrests digestion, impedes circulation, causes chills, diseased liver, and inflammation of the bowels. It breakes the enamel of the teeth and causes rapid decay. Ice water is a mistake. It is a mistake in climate, acute disease, and causes premature death. Moderately cool water is the drink for sensible people."

We have been examining our subscription books and we find quite a number who have not paid us one cent in two years. This won't do. It is ruinous. Every paper sent to these persons has cost us a cent or two. It is not treating us fairly or justly. The fact that these men are good and responsible does not alter the case. We only want paying subscribers. We hope this broad hint will accomplish the desired result.

All the orating and writing—all the froth and foam on the Civil Rights Bill by the Democrats, are time and effort spent in vain. The entire question will be finally disposed of long before the men elected at the election now at hand take their seat. The present Congress does not expire until the 4th of next March. The members elected in North Carolina on Thursday next will not take their seats until December 1875. The status of the Civil Rights bill requires that it be acted upon and disposed of this Winter. Then it will be seen that this matter was not in the issue of this canvass at all.

The speeches of Maj. ANDREWS have disappointed his intensely intelligent friends. He placed the fawn of those fond of anecdotes and tests and humor. It is true, but he utterly failed in argument, argument and the application of the abilities of a statesman. Extravagant in statement, reckless in assertion and plethoric in speech, he could not make no favorable impression upon those who read and think. These are not arguments, and the intelligence of the country weaken instead of strengthen the cause they who use them.

Of all the discontented and unhappy creatures on this earth we believe the disappointed office seeker to be the most wretched and most miserable. They pick out an office, try for the nomination and fail. Some of them bolt. Others, finding that the grapes which grew on the Democratic tree are not within reach, assume the virtue of the fabulous fox and swear "they are miserable sour things anyhow." Both classes sit among the ashes of their blasted hopes singing:

"We never had a piece of bread
Particularly nice and wide,
But what it fell upon the floor,
And always on the buttered side."

The reports from every County on the other side of the Sound is of the most cheering character. All dissentions are being healed and Republicans are rallying around the regular nominee. Even in old Tyrrell, the home of RANSOM, the number of his supporters are growing, "small and beautifully less" daily. Intelligent Democrats now admit that they have gained nothing in encouraging the "bolter" to remain in the fields and are already preparing to let themselves down easily by beginning to explain the reason why it happens to fall in the reason is—the want of votes!

The editors of the Times, published in Windsor, are whistling to keep their courage up. Feeling the throes of political death upon them, and realizing that they cannot defeat Mr. COBB, they give vent to their wrath by abusing him. He laughs at them." And, after reading their last issue, we have felt an irresistable impulse to do so too. They try their hand at poetry, but it is painfully evident that nature never endowed them with talents in that line, and their attempt to paraphrase SHAKESPEARE is an equal failure. Like "Pat's shot", it missed the mark "intirely". Be modest in your aspirations good brothers. We rather like you, for on the policy of Development, Improvement and Progress—you write with ability and sense, and we hope to have your paper as an ally in building up your native and our adopted home the Albemarle section of North Carolina. The press properly conducted, wields a mighty influence. Let us make ours foot in the right direction.

The Marriage Bill Ku Klux Congressman voted for the Civil Rights bill is false. He only voted to take it from the table in order to dispose of it.

The protracted illness of the editor made it impossible for him to comply with the numerous requests from different parts of the District to address the people on the issues of the canvass.

The Steamer Pamlico, Capt. SOUTHGATE, will make an excursion to Nag's Head on Wednesday the 12th inst. leaving Elizabeth City at 8 A. M. returning on Friday. A good boat and a genial, pleasant, Captain, excursionists cannot fail to have a delightful time.

Some of the friends of Col. JOHN WOOD Esq., without his knowledge announced his name as a candidate for the Legislature. He declined to be a candidate. The field is now open to MUNDEN and NASH, the Republican and Democratic candidates. Of course MUNDEN will be elected.

Our reply to "Teacher" is: In teaching, success and advancement depend largely upon love for the work. If you have no pleasure for the work, the sooner you get out of it the better for yourself and probably for the public. This is plain, but it is true.

On national topics the Democratic speakers in this county have shown amazing ignorance. The burthen of their speeches have been the stereotyped twaddle of old party hacks, who, unable to read the signs of the times themselves, "sical in the grave yard and quote epitaphs." But, in making Democratic speeches, what else could they do?

We have yet to see the man, no matter what his business might be, who ever lost anything by the kind and courteous treatment of those he came in contact with. Always be a gentleman, always try and make yourself agreeable, and you will not only make friends, but will be respected. This also applies in politics and in the Executive candidates make unexpected calls upon their competitors.

The fellow who said "it is all bosh" to the little circle around him to keep their spirits up, after going and putting some spirits down, whispered to a confidential friend "there is too much truth in what the editor of the NORTH CAROLINIAN says. His head is generally level."

A challenged voter has only to prove that he has been in the County thirty days. The balance of the proof devolves upon the challengers. Remember this.

When is a young lady like a whale? When she's pouting.

So an ambitious Cincinnatian wants that city to be known as the modern Athens, probably because of her much Greece.

The New Orleans croakers announce that "the horn of the ungodly shall be put down." That is where horns are generally put.

Miss Lizzie Chandler, Nyack, Rockland county, N. Y., having attained her 100th year, has received the honor of a serenade. This is what we call a piece of real gallantry. It is no credit to honor a pretty young woman in this musical way when her brow is as white as her locks and her eyes as bright as the stars which are winking overhead; but the serenade wrinkles and rheum and toothlessness shows that appreciation of woman without regard to her accidents, which cannot be sufficiently commended.

It behooves us to strike a balance in the account for and against the tribes of insect good and bad it is hardly safe to say which side it would be upon. We have much hard up against them, and bugs and beetles, caterpillars and grubs have much to account for. But, then, upon the other side we have the floods of nectar, the beeswax money, and the useful wax, the brilliant dyes, the needful thoughtful blister, the lustrous lac, the spendid Wallachian dispensable silk to go to the credit of the busy insects. The money value of all these products goes far to strike an even balance, for we find that each silk worm produces a value of 8 cents in eggs alone. The number laid by each insect is 500, and 100 worms produce 50 pounds of eggs, the market value of this is $4, the total yield of raw silk is hundreds of dollars. In addition to the money view of the case we should not forget the valuable service rendered in clearing off waste materials, purifying our soil spots, and fighting hurtful kindred races.

A DR LIANT RECORD OF CURES.—

An American humorist tells us that it would have been money in his pocket if he had been born without a stomach, and then proceeds to figure up the cost of a chronic dyspepsia, to which he is a martyr, and which he says it is impossible to cure. On this point, "Josh Billings, (for he is the party referred to) is mistaken. Unless his stomach differs from all other dyspeptic stomachs Hostetter's Bitters will cure him in less than three months. This it would be safe to guarantee under any penalty. There are a few, a very few, actual specific or disease in existence, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be set down as one of them. In cases of indigestion it never fails. Persons who had suffered for many years almost every conceivable species of tortur rom this agonizing complaint, have been permanently cured with the Bitters in six weeks. Hundreds of such instances are on record, authenticated by the testimony of prominent men in every walk of life, eminent physicians among the number. But this celebrated vegetable preparation is something more than a stomachic nd tonic. It is also an alterative of wonderful virtue In liver complaint its effect is as direct and immediate as that of calomel or blue pill, and for more salutary and in all diseased conditions of the bowels, notably in cases of constipation, its regulating properties are in the highest degree serviceable. The new settlements in the west and all low-lying tracts of country infested with miasmatic exhalations, so fruitful at this season of the various types of intermittent fevers, should be always well stocked with this incomparable remedy which will cure any case of fever and ague in a period varying from three days to three or four weeks, according to the violence of the complaint. Nervous disorders which are always aggravated by the adulterated liquors usually prescribed by physicians, are readily cured by a course of this admirable combination medicine as which the properties of a stimulant, a tonic and alterative are happily blended.

"WE
NEIGHBORS"

is the latest and raciest work by
HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.

Author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "The Minister's Wooing" "My Wife and I," and other powerful stories, each the literary sensation of its period: and this story promises the genuine and Wholesome sensation. It is written directly on social topics of interest, embracing the romance of youthful companionship, the brightness of happy home life, the many complications of neighborhood association, and such follies and profound domestic mysteries as have led to the wide-spread Temperance movement of the day.

Mrs. STOWE is now in the prime of that genius which wrote "Uncle Tom," ripened by years of study and observation. Her novels are immensely popular, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" alone out-selling by hundreds of thousands any edition of any original work ever published save the Bible. Her book two years ago, "My Wife and I," outsold every contemporary. Such a pure and ennobling story as "We and Our Neighbors" should be read in every home. This attractive Serial is just beginning exclusively in the

NEW HAVEN, CT.

Dr. [illegible] California Vinegar Bitters are a preparation of Vegetable remedies from the native forest-bearing plants of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therein without the use of Alcohol. As a beverage they are daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of Vinegar Bitters?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect restorer and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of Vinegar Bitters in healing the sick of the various diseases incident to our climate. They are also a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

If you will enjoy good health, let the use of Vinegar Bitters as a medicine, and abstain from all alcoholic stimulants and fancy drinks.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and more invariably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Jaundice.—In all cases of jaundice, rest assured that your liver is not doing its work. The only sensible treatment is to promote the secretion of the bile and favor its removal. For this purpose use VINEGAR BITTERS.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.
Real Estate Agent,
ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the salubility of the people, in great fertility and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built from Norfolk, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

A farm of 700 acres in Pasquotank County 10 miles from town, with fine two story dwelling, large barn, kitchen and other outhouses; as also, two other dwellings, barns and other houses at different points on the farm. This farm is all cleared but 150 acres, is free from swamps and other waste land, and is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, &c. The price is 14,000 in easy payments.

A farm of 500 acres in Pasquotank County, 6 miles from town, and one mile from the River, with good new dwelling built in modern style, barn, stables, four tenant houses scattered over the farm, fine water, &c. This farm is situated on the most public road in the County, has 300 acres cleared and balance in splendid pine, oak, cypress, maple, sweet gum, and other valuable timber. It is peculiarly adapted to raising cotton, $50 per acre, net, having been realized on a part of it this year in cotton. It also grows corn, wheat, oats, and other crops well. Price $12,000 in easy payments.

Two tracts of land lying on Pasquotank River four miles from town, neatly cleared, and in good cultivation, one contains 1,000 acres, and the other 600 acres. Both have good fisheries. and the land is equal to any in this section. Price $20.00 per acre in easy payments. Also several smaller tracts for sale, ranging from 50 to 100 acres each, at low prices, and on easy terms.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotank county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 200 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Three farms—one of 100 acres, one of 80 acres and one of 190 acres, within two miles of town, mostly cleared land. Price $20 per acre for each tract—payments on easy terms. Also many other valuable farms and town lots too numerous to mention.

STRONG AND PURE BLOOD—INCREASE OF FLESH AND WEIGHT—CLEAR SKIN AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXIONS SECURED TO ALL.

Sarsaparillian Resolvent
THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

HAS MADE THE MOST ASTONISHING CURES: SO QUICK, SO RAPID ARE THE CHANGES IN THE BODY, UNDER ITS INFLUENCE, UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF THIS TRULY WONDERFUL MEDICINE, THAT

Every Day an Increase in Flesh and Weight is Seen and Felt.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other Fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the waste of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all wasting and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms or disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these waste, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does accomplish—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney & Bladder Complaints,

Urinary and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

The Saturday Evening Post.

The Oldest and Best Story Paper Published.

Founded August 4th, A. D. 1821.

For more than half century the SATURDAY EVENING POST has been the

GREAT LITERARY WEEKLY

of the Country, and has ever born a widespread and unblemished reputation for the unsurpassed purity, refinement and excellence of the Serials, Sketches and Miscellaneous reading matter.

It is pre-eminently

THE BEST FAMILY PAPER

that is published in this county, from its never containing anything that would offend the feelings of any one, either in a religious or political sense, or that could not be read at any fireside without objection from the most fastidious.

The circulation of the Saturday Evening Post, though not quite so large perhaps, as its younger contemporaries, is not, like that of some of them, fluctuating, and too often short lived, but based upon the intrinsic merit of the paper itself, and not dependent on any extraneous influences, such as the popularity of individual writers, &c.

Good, however, as the Saturday Evening Post has been in the past, it is our intention to make it still better in the future, and with this object in view we will effect a marked improvement in every department of the paper and will call to our assistance writers of admitted ability and known reputation.

By increasing its former attractions, and adding many judicious and pleasing novelties by studying how to please and cultivate the popular taste, by increasing industry and enterprise, and by enlarged facilities, we hope to make new friends with each and every issue, and continue to maintain the claim of the Saturday Evening Post to its title of The Oldest and the Best of Family Story Papers.

THE GREAT BALOON.

You've heard about the great balloon,
In which Professor Wise
Proposed to go to Europe,
By sailing through the skies,
He proposed to show the people
A quicker way for trips
Than ever had been known before,
By sailing o'er in ships.

Well everything seemed lovely
Upon that Autumn day,
When they began to pump in gas
To bear the barge away.
They pumped and pumped with all their power,
And things seemed nigh adjusted—
When there came an awful crash,
And the mighth bubble busted.

It's over thus in human life,
Go whereso'er we may,
The darkest night will oft succeed
The brightest, sunniest day,
There are exceptions to this rule,
Where all the days are fair,—
For one, go down to JOHNSON HALL,
You'll find things all right there.

We've thought it best in cases like this,
This little fact to mention;
You need not ferr that they'll inflate
Beyond their power of retention.
And when they undertake to go
Their geer's so well adjusted,
They'll move straigh forward to their work,
With no fear of being "busted."
